

Academic Honors

- Show the buff-colored copy of the permission slip to the professor of your class. This legitimizes your enrollment at the visited institution. Keep the form for your personal records.

Withdrawal from consortium courses must be reported at once to the consortium coordinator in the Registrar's Office.

All consortium students are subject to the visited institution's academic and social rules, regulations, and policies.

Tuition and Fees

- Marymount consortium students pay the Marymount tuition rate to the Marymount Student Accounts Office. Credits taken through the consortium are counted toward full-time/part-time status at Marymount for the purposes of financial aid.
- Any attendant fees (lab, books, study materials) are to be paid by the student to the visited institution.
- Refunds for consortium courses follow the Marymount refund schedule.

Grading and Credit

- Grades for consortium courses are sent to Marymount's registrar by the visited institution. They are recorded as Marymount University credit and calculated into the Marymount University cumulative grade point average.
- Grades are recorded onto the Marymount University grade report and transcript as soon as they are received. In most cases, this will be after regular Marymount credit has been posted. In such cases, students will receive updated grade reports and transcripts.
- Consortium credits are converted to Marymount University semester credits and count toward full-time/part-time status at Marymount University. Likewise, grades, if necessary, are converted to the nearest Marymount University equivalent.

Visiting Students

- Consortium students visiting Marymount must check in with the consortium coordinator in the Registrar's Office. A completed permission slip must be presented.
- Visiting consortium students are not eligible for Marymount internships, clinical Nursing or Physical Therapy courses, or other specialized courses. Visiting students must call the consortium coordinator at (703) 284-1520 if they have questions about their eligibility for a course.
- Visiting students' grades will be reported by the consortium coordinator to the home institution.

ACADEMIC HONORS

Dean's List

The Dean's List is comprised of the names of those undergraduate students who carry a full academic load for a given semester, are in good academic standing, and obtain a grade point average of at least 3.4. For this purpose, a full academic load will be considered 12 credits or more. This list is published soon after completion of the semester; therefore, students with Incompletes will not be listed. A Dean's List notation is made on the transcript for each semester it is awarded.

Honor Societies

Alpha Phi Sigma National Society in Criminal Justice. Beta Psi, the Marymount chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma, is for undergraduate students in Criminal Justice and graduate students in Forensic Psychology. The honor society is dedicated to making criminal justice professions and their practitioners more effective, encouraging research and the application of scientific principles within criminal justice fields. Students must have completed at least 12 credit hours in Criminal Justice and maintain a 3.0 overall grade point average and a 3.5 in Criminal Justice courses. Graduate students must maintain a 3.5 in their graduate program.

Undergraduate students must have completed at least 30 credits in Business Administration courses (21 at Marymount University for transfer students) with a Business Administration grade point average of 3.5 and an overall grade point average of 3.5. Graduate students must have completed at least 75 percent of their Marymount University graduate degree program with a grade point average of 3.8.

Phi Alpha Theta is the national history honor society. To be eligible, students must have completed at least twelve credit hours in History and maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0 (3.1 in History courses). Members are selected annually by the History faculty.

Psi Chi National Honor Society in Psychology. Junior students must have at least a B average in all Psychology courses. In addition, they must have completed at least 12 semester credits (or 9 and be registered for 3) of Psychology courses. Students in good standing receive a card and certificate of membership. Graduate students must have an average of B or better in all graduate courses.

Sigma Tau Delta is an international honor society for students majoring or minoring in English. Membership is open to both undergraduate and graduate students. To be eligible for membership undergraduates must have completed at least twelve credits in English beyond the freshman composition level and have an overall GPA of 3.5. Graduate students must have completed at least nine credits in their graduate program and have a GPA of 3.7.

Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Honor Society.

Senior Nursing students are eligible for membership if they have completed three years of coursework leading to the bachelor's degree, have at least a 3.0 grade point average in the Nursing major, and rank in the top third of their class. Students should demonstrate their ability in Nursing both academically and clinically and should exhibit overall leadership qualities.

Rowley Scholars

Rowley Scholars are full-time, first-college undergraduate students invited by the University president for membership upon completion of their first semester in the freshman year. The minimum criteria for selection are as follows:

- Students must achieve and maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.8 each semester.
- Students must demonstrate active participation in campus life and service.
- Students retain their designation as a Rowley student only if they attain a 3.8 GPA each semester, are continuously enrolled, and maintain full-time status.

The Rowley Oxford Scholarship is awarded each year to at least one student whose competitive essay (described herein) is judged to be of highest merit. This scholarship, awarded during the spring semester of the student's junior year, provides travel, tuition, and room and board expenses for a six-week summer course of study at Oxford University. (See page 23 for contact information.)

Rowley Scholars who wish to compete for the Oxford Scholarship must complete and submit to the president of the University an essay reflecting wide reading in scholarly writings. The subject is chosen by the Rowley Scholar, but it must have a moral dimension, posing questions about virtue, truth, and/or beauty, and providing examples from history, literature, philosophy, and/or art. The student's treatment of the chosen subject must demonstrate his or her high intellectual ability, broad and energetic inquiry, and superior communication skills.
